

UNIQUE

PLAGIARISM CHECKER

Report

A security designer is responsible for designing, building, and maintaining the security structures of a system. Hence, they need to know all the security concepts and practical ways to achieve them. One person unable to handle all the aspects of security architecture and that is why a team is needed to fulfill all the security requirements of a project.

plagiarized percentage : 100.00%